Candace McCullough

She | Her

CEO / Therapist

Dr. Candace McCullough is the CEO and a founder of Deaf Counseling Center (DCC), along with her partner. Established in 2001, DCC is the first Deaf women-owned group counseling practice to offer online therapy to Deaf people on a national basis. Dr. McCullough holds a PhD in clinical psychology, a MA in Psychology and a MA in Mental Health Counseling. In addition to working for Deaf Counseling Center, she served as an Adjunct Faculty member in the Department of Counseling at Gallaudet University and taught at McDaniel College in Westminster, Maryland. Born and raised in California, Dr. McCullough enjoys traveling to different countries, as well exploring the US in her pandemic-inspired camper van. She and her partner, Sharon, recently celebrated their 30th anniversary. They are proud parents of a Deaf daughter, Jehanne, who works as an attorney in Washington, DC, a 16-year old red-point Siamese cat, Ruskin, and a 12-year old rescue greyhound, Paws.
